A decorative border on the left and right sides of the page, consisting of a vertical stack of books with various colored spines (red, green, yellow, grey).

"The gravest threat our civilization faces is in fact not ecological but philosophical. It is the widespread belief that there is no objective truth and no 'true' way of considering the world and its history, only a plurality of subjective points of view, each point of view being of equal value and deserving equal respect."

Beauty in the Word, p. 7

A decorative border on the left and right sides of the slide, consisting of a vertical stack of books with various colored spines (red, green, blue, yellow, and white).

Grammar

(remembering)

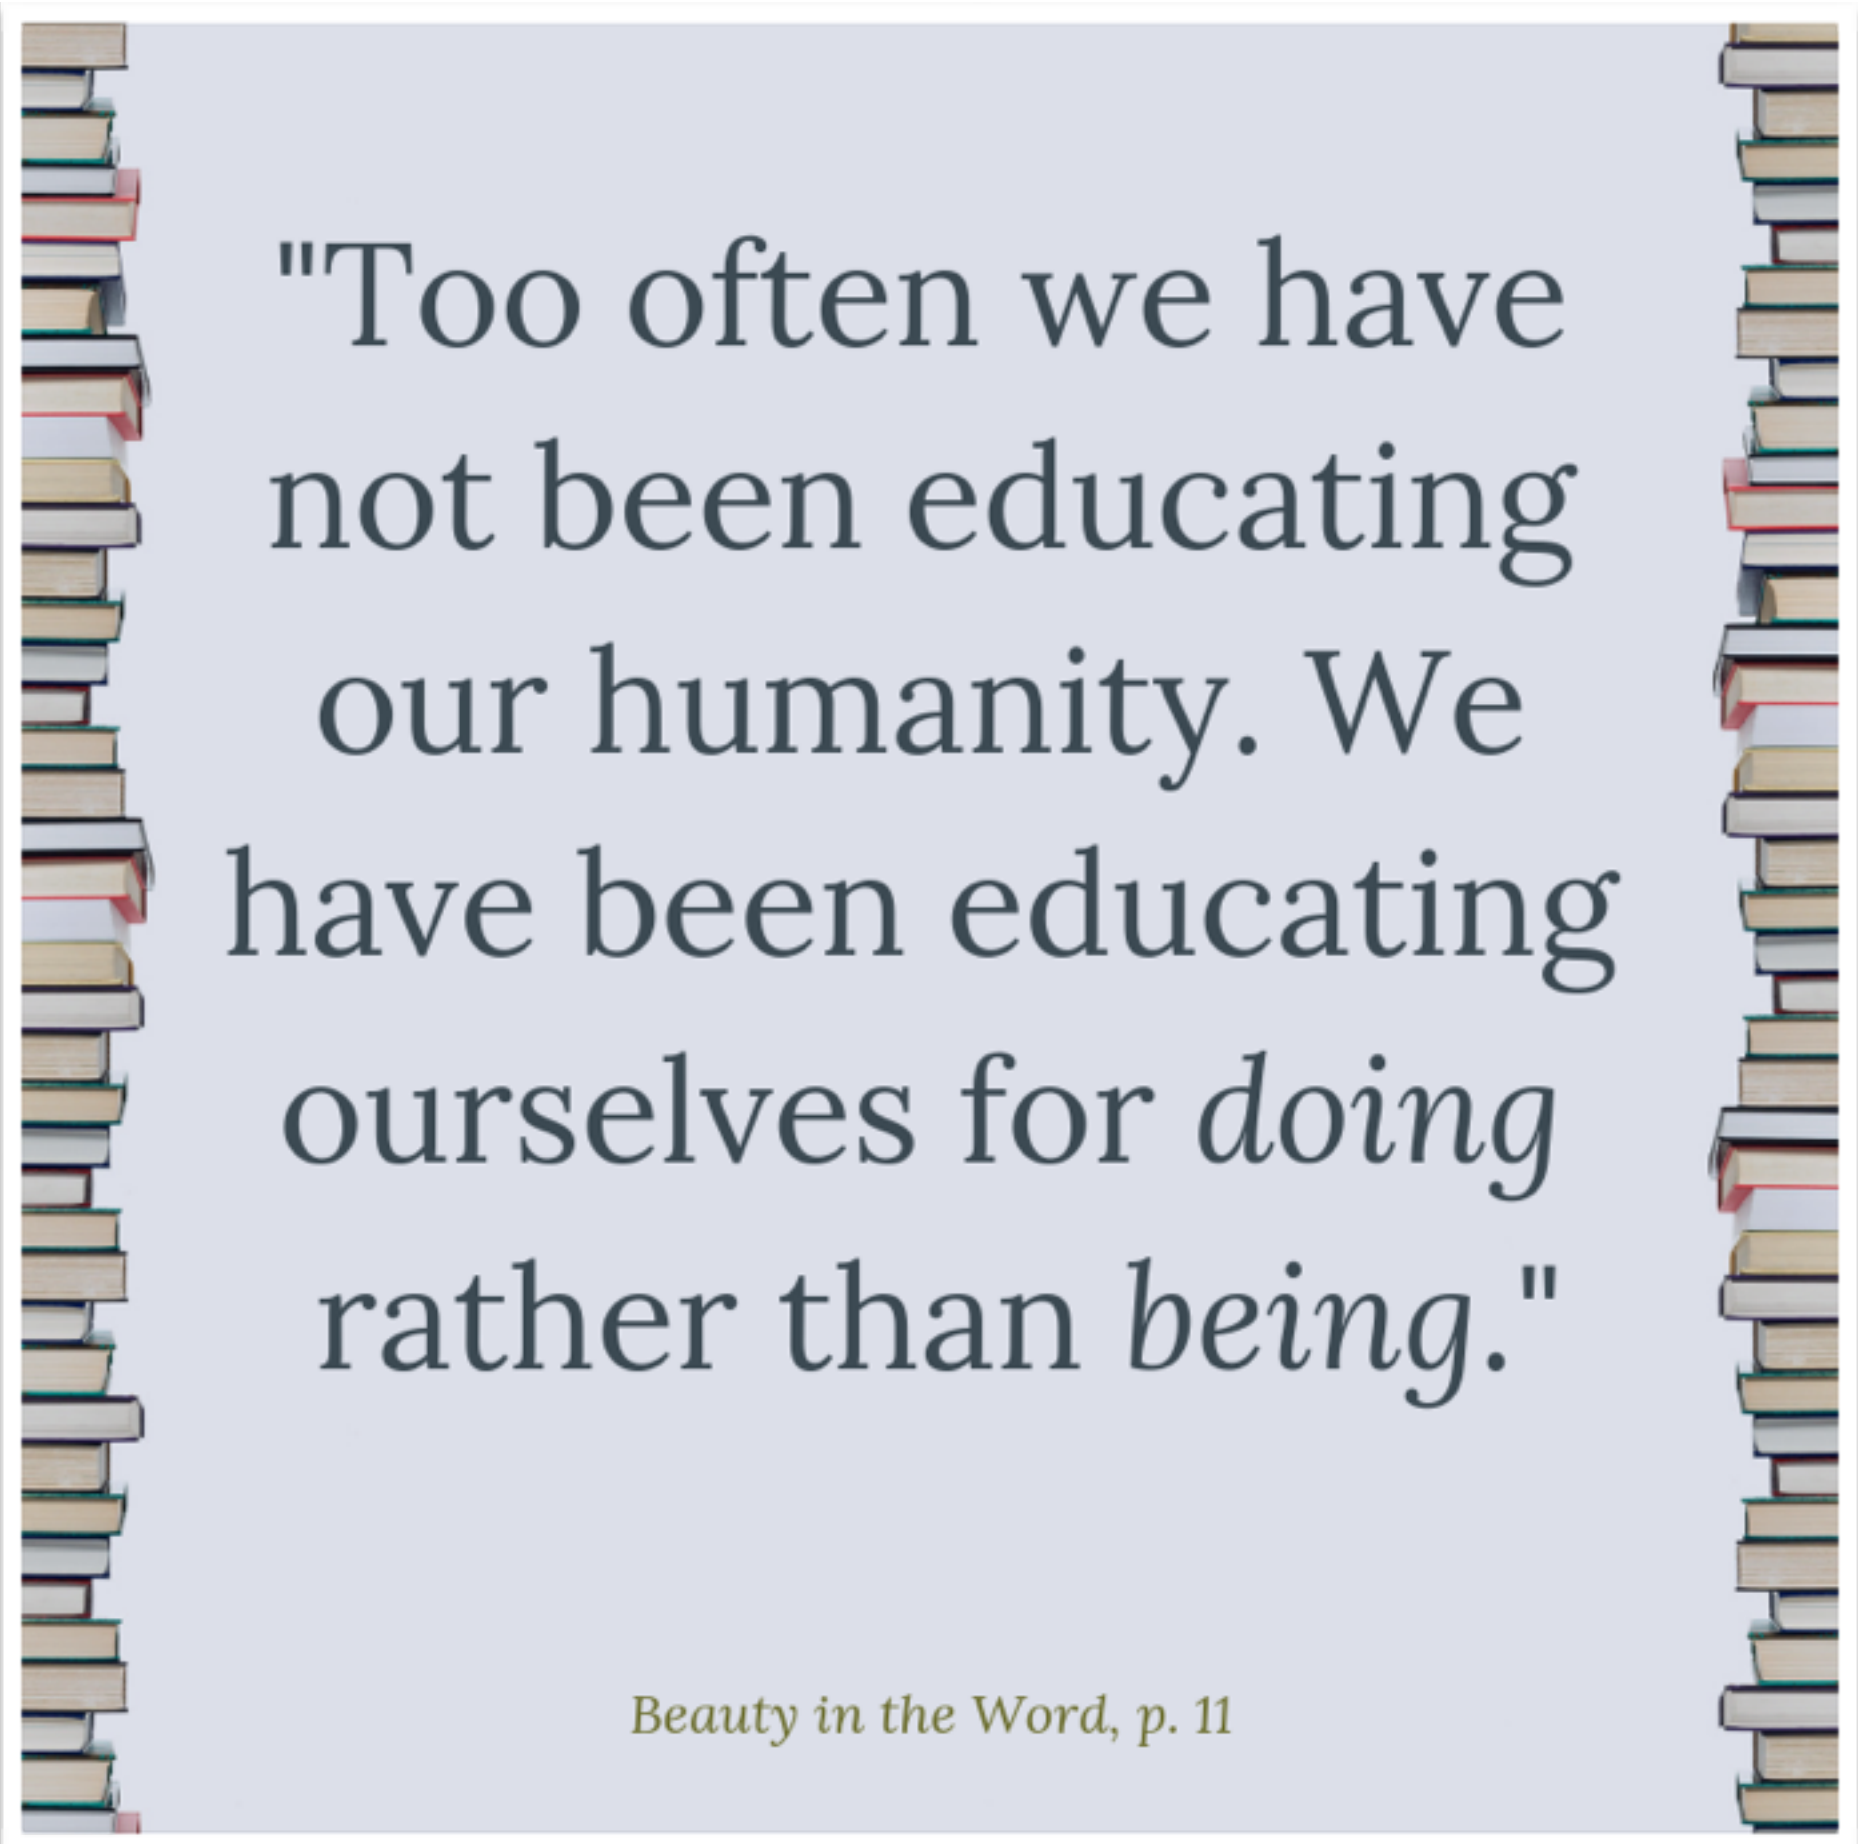

Dialectic

(thinking)

Rhetoric

(speaking)

Beauty in the Word

"Too often we have not been educating our humanity. We have been educating ourselves for doing rather than being."

Beauty in the Word, p. 11

Grammar

(Be!)

Remember the origin of our existence.

Dialectic

(Think!)

In discovering the Father we awaken thought in ourselves.

Rhetoric

(Speak!)

Sharing is done through the Spirit of the Father that carries the Word.

A decorative border on the left and right sides of the slide, consisting of a vertical stack of books with various colored spines (yellow, red, green, blue).

For Next Time:

Read Chapter 1

Contemplate:

*We learn because we love.
Are you bringing about a relationship with your child
by loving them?*